4th Draft Lists 3,575 Countians

Teachers Help At Seven Centers

Adams county draft boards today disclosed that 3,575 men between the ages of 45 and 64 were registered under the Selective Service act at seven registration stations in Adams county, Monday.

The fourth registration, which enrolled approximately nine per cent of the county's total population and was the second largest registration conducted here under the Selective Service act, kept volunteer registrars busy at Gettysburg, Fairfield and Biglerville in District No. 2 and at New Oxford, Littlestown, McSherrystown and York Springs in District No. 1.

School Teachers Help

The volunteer registrars worked from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m., under the supervision of members of the two local draft boards or their representatives. A great part of the registration work was done by school teachers and pupils of the first six grades in Gettysburg enjoyed a vacation while their teachers assisted in the registration here.

District No. 1 enrolled 1,854 men with exact figures not available until the board meets this evening at New Oxford. Unofficial totals given by four registration points in that district follow: New Oxford, 636; Littlestown, 461; McSherrystown, 382, and York Springs, 461.

Members of Board No. 2 met this morning at 11 o'clock in their office in the First National bank building, center square, and announced a total of 1,721 men had registered in the western half of the county. The report from each registration point follows: Gettysburg, 983; Biglerville, 487, and Fairfield, 251.

To Get Questionnaires

Advance estimates that the county registration would total about 3,500—or about 50 per cent more than the number listed in the county in the third registration.

Selective Service officials have announced that the men registered Monday will be sent occupational questionnaires and will not be subject to military service.

State Selective Service headquarters at Harrisburg reported today that the state's 422 local boards carried out Monday's registration "speedily and efficiently" and enrolled an estimated 1,000,000 Pennsylvanians.

MARYLANDER IS CONVICTED

In a sealed verdict read at 1:30 o'clock when court convened for the afternoon session today a jury convicted John Bentzel, 24, Westminster R. D., formerly of near Littlestown, of three serious charges involving a girl under 16 years of age. The prosecutrix was Mrs. Cora Zepp, Union township. The jury recommended leniency.

Trial of the Bentzel case opened Monday afternoon after nearly an hour was spent in choosing a jury of 12 men. Forty-three jurors were drawn before 12 were accepted, nearly exhausting the penal for this session of court.

The Bentzel jury included: Roy E. Brough, York Springs R. 1; Keith Burger, Chambersburg street; Dennis Epley, Littlestown R. 1; Ervin E. Hess, Gettysburg R. 3; Irvin Kindig, Littlestown; J. Lawrence Reaver, East Berlin R. D.; Raymond Sebright, East Berlin R. 2; Jesse E. Snyder, Baltimore street; Clair J. Snyder, Littlestown R. 2; Clayton Starner, Aspers R. 2; Albert M.

AVERAGE WAGE $35

Washington, April 28 (AP)—Present wage levels, which President Roosevelt would stabilize, are giving workers in manufacturing industries an average of $35 a week. Labor department records show this average weekly earning in January represented an increase of 25.4 per cent over January, 1941. The increase is due in part to overtime.

IMPROVED SLIGHTLY

Slight improvement was noted today in the condition of Charles W. Stock, Harrisburg street, who is a patient in the West Side sanitarium at York.

Brief Furloughs Available For Some Selectees

Adams county's local draft boards today made public a memorandum they have received from the state headquarters of Selective Service concerning the granting of furloughs to men at the time of their induction.

The communication states: "Furloughs will ordinarily be granted at the reception center in order to prevent hardship or financial loss for a period of not to exceed 10 days and will begin not later than five days after induction. When the soldier lives at a great distance from the reception center, furloughs up to 15 days may be granted. In exceptional cases the induction officer will be authorized to grant furloughs at the induction station."

On the basis of this information the local boards are advising prospective inductees not to release their financial and personal affairs before final action is taken by the Army examination board.

In worthy cases local boards may send to the induction station names of those selectees for whom furloughs are recommended. Men who are on furloughs must pay their own travel expenses, including those incurred by reason of sickness or injury.

SIXTH DISTRICT CONVENTION TO HEAR DR. MYERS

An election of officers will be held at the business meeting during the afternoon. The nominating committee consists of Robert Carey, Roy Starner and Walter Slaybaugh. Present officers include Luther Lady, president, and Mrs. Hope Morgan, secretary.

The afternoon session will conclude at 4:30 o'clock and will be followed by a box luncheon.

DISPLAYS DEED WRITTEN IN 1773

A vellum deed made out on February 15, 1773, by Thomas and John Penn to Andrew Koontz and covering a 7½-acre property in what is now Germany township, Adams county, was shown at the court house this morning by Ray J. Snyder, Littlestown, a special clerk in the county commissioners' office.

Mr. Snyder said that he believes the old document in his possession covers a piece of land adjoining the Christ church property near Littlestown. The deed, written in "the thirteenth year of the reign of George III," is in good condition and the writing is clearly legible. It bears the seal of the Pennsylvania Inrollment office at Philadelphia where it was recorded in 1773.

Charles L. Rowland, director of music at Juniata college, Huntingdon, Pa., will be the guest conductor for the first Adams county choral festival that will be held Friday evening, May 1, at 8 o'clock in the Gettysburg High school auditorium.

Each high school in the county will be represented in the chorus of 120 voices, it was announced today following a meeting Monday evening of the school officials in charge of arrangements for the festival.

One Group Rehearsal

Only one group rehearsal will be held for the entire chorus and that will take place on Friday afternoon.

The complete program for the evening has been announced. It includes eight selections by the entire chorus, two by the girls in the group and two by the boys. Special features during the evening will include selections by a girls' trio from East Berlin high school, a girls' ensemble from New Oxford high school, a baritone horn solo by a Biglerville student and a baritone solo by a Gettysburg student.

The entire chorus will sing these numbers: "I Hear America Singing," by DeRose; "I Am an American," by Neil; "Land of Hope and Glory," by Elgar; "Morning," by Speaks; "Rain and River," by Fox; "Adoramus Te," by Palestrina; "Te Spiritum," by Schuetky, and "All in the April Evening," by Roberton.

TRADERS SIGN TO GET SUGAR

Registration of an estimated 680 sugar trade outlets in Adams county began this morning at 8:30 o'clock at the county's nine high schools under the direction of appointed school site administrators and assisting registrars. Registration continues through Wednesday.

The school and rationing officials made these estimates of the probable number of sugar wholesalers, retailers and institutional and industrial users of sugar to be registered in each high school area: Gettysburg, 300; East Berlin, 27; Abbottstown, 20; Littlestown, 75; York Springs, 30; Biglerville, 50; New Oxford, 75; Arendtsville, 75, and Fairfield, 30.

Up to noon today no difficulties in the registration task had been reported to Donald P. McPherson, Jr., Esq., chairman of the county rationing board.

The registration continues from 8:30 a. m. until 5:30 p. m. at most of the registration points.

Next week consumers will be registered in grade school buildings throughout the county from May 4 to 7 in accordance with detailed plans already formulated and ready to be announced later this week.

Garden plants were in demand this morning at the first session of Tuesday morning market of the year at the Farmers' Market house. Asparagus, which made its first appearance here last Saturday, sold this morning at 25 and 30 cents a bunch.

PRICE CONTROLS AIMED TO CHECK COST OF LIVING

Washington, April 28 (AP)—The radio address in which President Roosevelt will discuss with the American people his plan to control the cost of living will be delivered at 10 o'clock tonight, Eastern War Time. White House officials said the chief executive planned to speak for half an hour and it is expected that all major networks will carry the speech.

Washington, April 28 (AP)—On the brink of an historic plunge into over-all price controls, the capital today awaited announcement of a blanket price ceiling on virtually all consumer goods.

A vertical regulation, preventing prices from rising above the highest levels charged by each dealer in the month of March, was expected to be disclosed at a Press conference scheduled for late today by Price Administrator Leon Henderson.

Would Affect All Prices

Advices accumulating for the last month indicated the ceiling would apply to retail, wholesale and manufacturers' levels.

President Roosevelt's anti-inflation message to Congress yesterday give a clear hint that rent controls in war-time boom areas would be linked with the proposed lid on prices.

"To keep the cost of living from spiraling upward, we must fix ceilings on the prices which consumers, retailers, wholesalers, and manufacturers pay for the things they buy; and ceilings on rents for dwellings in all areas affected by war industries," Mr. Roosevelt said.

Official sources had indicated previously that announcement of the sweeping Office of Price Administration action was waiting only on the President's presentation to Congress of an omnibus anti-inflation program.

Follows Canadian Plan

The plan was expected to follow the Canadian pattern of permitting each store to set its own ceiling, using the highest price it charged in March as the maximum. Thus, one store could continue to charge more than another for the same article, an arrangement permitting "quality" shops to continue adding into their prices that cost of higher operating expenses, delivery service and other "extras."

New legislation would not be necessary for a blanket price order or an extension of rent controls. Henderson has authority under the emergency price control act to abandon the selective or "piecemeal" technique so far used and to take blanket price action.

Rent controls can be set up in any community merely by designating it as a defense rental area.

COFFEE SUPPLY CUT ONE-QUARTER

Washington, April 28 (AP)—"Here are the keys to the pantry, Jeeves; I feel like having some coffee and sugar with my cream this morning."

It's not quite as bad as that, but a start may have been taken with the announcement that a 25 per cent cut has been ordered in the consumption of coffee.

This means that wholesalers from now on will be permitted to release only enough coffee to afford the average American 2.1 cups a day, instead of the 2.8 cups to which he has been accustomed.

"Uncertainties about future supplies," were blamed by the War Production Board for the order.

Sugar sales stopped at midnight, preparatory to a half-pound-per-person-per-week rationing program starting May 5.

The sugar rationing program registration will be handled at the schools May 4 to 7.

WILL REBUILD RUBBER PLANT

Meeting within view of the smoking ruins of what was their thriving rubber products manufacturing plant at Taneytown, completely destroyed by a fire starting Saturday evening, the directors of the Cambridge Rubber Company of Cambridge, Massachusetts, decided to start rebuilding the plant at once.

Unable to determine the exact cause of the fire which swept the plant despite the efforts of firemen from five communities, officials were unable to estimate the amount of the loss. They did say, however, that the previously reported $500,000 figure was considerable over the actual loss.

The accident is reported to have occurred when a car occupied by two young men drove onto the main highway through a stop sign. The cars collided, causing damage estimated between $150 and $200 to the Jester machine. One of the young men was taken to the Bellefonte hospital where he was unconscious for half an hour.

TIRE QUOTAS FOR MAY CUT 25%; MORE RETREADS

New tire quotas for May for Adams county—as well as the rest of the state—are slashed 25 per cent today, but permission was granted for an increase of almost one-third in retreads, an announcement from Harrisburg stated.

Only 20 new passenger tires are allowed for all of Adams county next month; 152 passenger retreads, and 86 tubes.

For trucks, 103 new tires were granted; 164 retreads, and 143 tubes.

The rationing board authorities here said they have not yet been notified of the May figures and that until that time the assignment of the allotments to the two districts in the county cannot be made.

The April tire rationing situation was relieved greatly in Adams county this week by the allowance of 70 additional retreads in District No. 1 and 80 additional in District No. 2, the board announced.

Ruhr Valley, Trondheim R.A.F. Offensive Targets

British Report Huge Fires In Cologne; Eighteen Planes Missing; Nazis Raid Norwich

[By The Associated Press]

Britain's great aerial offensive pounded Cologne in the heart of the Ruhr industrial valley before dawn today in the fifth successive night foray into Germany, an RAF communique announced, while German night raiders heavily attacked Norwich, 100 miles northeast of London.

Huge fires were left burning in Cologne, the British said.

Other RAF planes struck in force at the German-occupied Naval base of Trondheim, Norway, where the Germans are building an Atlantic battle fleet base, and bombed the docks at Dunkerque and Nazi airdromes. Eighteen planes were acknowledged missing.

Four German warships are anchored in the Trondheim harbor, including the 35,000-ton battleship Tirpitz and the 10,000-ton cruiser Prinz Eugen.

Land Installations Are Targets

A British spokesman said the RAF bombardier rained their explosives chiefly on land installations which "we are trying to knock down as fast as they are put up," instead of concentrating on the warships.

"It is vitally important to destroy the usefulness of Trondheim as a naval base," the spokesman said.

By daylight, swarms of RAF warplanes roared back across the channel to blast the Nazi-occupied French "invasion coast."

Observers said the thunder of heavy explosions jarred the English side of Dover strait, with white

AUSTRALIA: 7 Enemy Raiders Downed; Slight Corregidor Action

Allied Headquarters, Australia, April 28 (AP)—Allied bombers spreading the United Nations' aerial counter-attack on an ever-widening front and Allied fighters which shot down seven more enemy raiders over Darwin Monday shared honors in the communique today from General MacArthur's headquarters.

It said the Japanese sent 17 bombers and nine fighters over Darwin and the north Australia port's air defenders shot down three of the bombers and four of the fighters.

With eight bombers and three fighters bagged Saturday, this raised the defense's toll in two raids to 18 enemy planes against light Allied losses.

An enemy transport was destroyed in an Allied air smash on shipping at Kavieng, on the northwestern tip of New Ireland in the Bismarck archipelago, about 700 miles above Cape York, the northeastern-most point of Australia, the communique said.

In another attack on the string of islands screening the island continent, it added, Allied planes "successfully attacked enemy port installations," at Faisi, a tiny island in the Solomon group off the southern tip of Bougainville.

In the Philippines, the headquarters communique said, there was only slight air activity and intermittent shelling at Corregidor while on the island of Luzon there was enemy movement toward the southern end of the Cagayan valley.

(The Cagayan river lies in northeastern Luzon, flowing north and emptying into the Babuyan channel at Aparri. The only opposition in that region has been that of guerrillas.)

BURMA: Japs Threaten To Close Door To China; Closer To Mandalay

Chungking, China, April 28 (AP)—The Japanese appeared today on the point of slamming shut the Burma back door to China and pinching off the entire British-Chinese defense forces.

Strong reinforcements from Malaya, driving north and east through the Shan states, reached points only 60 miles from the Mandalay-Lashio railroad.

The American volunteer group of fliers shot down eleven Japanese fighters without loss to themselves at 10 o'clock this morning when 27 Japanese bombers and 20 fighters attempted to raid an AVG base in northern Burma, dispatches from Kunming said.

Thwarted at the AVG base, the Japanese nevertheless swept on to Lashio, where they set great fires and bombed the airdrome.

So closely threatened is Lashio that essential military supplies already have been moved out and many inhabitants have fled.

The fall of Lashio or of any point along the 130-mile railway running southwestward to Mandalay would further restrict the already difficult transport between China and India and would threaten the defenders of Burma with disastrous entrapment.

Latest dispatches from the dry hills and river valleys of the fighting fronts said tank-led Japanese columns were driving up the road from Loilem on the eastern flank and had reached a point 60 miles or less from Hsipaw on the Mandalay-Lashio road. (This apparently was in the vicinity of Mong Kung. Chinese dispatches identified the point as Mong Sung, not shown on available maps.)

Other fingers of the invaders were reaching up to grasp upper Burma along the Sittang and Irrawaddy river valleys, but it was the eastern flanking maneuver which was the most menacing.

London, April 28 (AP)—Large amounts of Japanese shipping was sighted today in the Bay of Bengal by allied reconnaissance planes, informed sources said. The ships were believed moving reinforcements in men and material to the battle for Burma.

RUSSIA: Hitler, Angered By Soviet Advances, Removes General

London, April 28 (AP)—Adolf Hitler has cashiered the 163rd German Division's commandant in exasperation at Red Army gains on the Finnish front and seeks still more forced labor for Nazi farms and factories, war dispatches indicated today.

Coincident with a developing Soviet counter-offensive across still frozen Lapland and Karelia came advices from Stockholm that Lieutenant General Engelbrecht, who led the 163rd Nazi Division to the Finnish front July 12, 1941, had been dismissed by Hitler and a reshuffle of the entire German command in Finland is imminent.

Hitler was reported angered by Russian successes in the drive to erase Axis threats to Archangel and Arctic Murmansk, Soviet supply ports, and wedge spearheads across the Finnish frontier.

One Stockholm dispatch said the removal of Engelbrecht might be one of the disciplinary measures to which Hitler referred in his Sunday speech before the Reichstag.

A communique broadcast from Moscow said Red Army forces had bloodily repulsed Germans who, supported by tanks and aircraft, had sought for two days to wedge into Soviet lines on the central front.

Reds Control Lake Area

London, April 28 (AP)—The Russians appeared to have won control of the entire region around Lake Ilmen today except for German pockets at Novgorod and Staraya Russa by capturing Borok, key rail town on the northwestern front.

exhaust trails streaking the sky for many miles.

The magnitude of the RAF's around-the-clock assaults was indicated by a German High Command assertion that 41 British planes had been destroyed in 24 hours—19 in daylight yesterday, 12 in night flights over western Germany and seven in a night attack on the Norwegian coast.

The Germans said 12 were shot down over Cologne alone.

German reports, acknowledging that the Cologne civil population "suffered casualties in dead and injured," asserted the raiders concentrated their attack on "residential districts, hospitals and public buildings."

Mass Rostock Exodus

A British spokesman said the RAF struck in considerable force and inflicted widespread new damage, shifting their attack to the Ruhr after blasting four nights in a row at the German Baltic port of Rostock.

Stockholm reports said 10,000 families had been left homeless there, while the British Air Ministry declared aerial reconnaissance photos showed that the population was carrying out a mass exodus from the bomb-wrecked city, the home of the big Heinkel Aircraft works.

A British communique acknowledged "a good many casualties," fires and widespread damage in the German night raid on Norwich (pop. 125,000). Nine persons were missing in the debris of a bomb-smashed hospital; rescue workers were still digging in the wreckage for trapped victims at daylight.

Seven Nazi Messerschmitts also bombed and machine-gunned an English southeast coast town this morning.

Intersectional Games To Test Dodgers' Streak And Cleveland's Strength

THREE SERIES STAND OUT AT BEGINNING

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major leagues open their intersectional strife of the season today and the next 10 days may be more revealing than those that have passed.

It is impossible to evaluate the Brooklyn Dodgers, for instance, on their record of winning nine out of 11 games from the Boston Braves and Philadelphia Phils and no one will be sure of the surprising strength shown by the Cleveland Indians until they are tested against the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox.

At the outset there are three series that stand out—the Detroit Tigers invasion of Boston in the American league and the Brooklyn at Cincinnati and New York at St. Louis struggles in the National league.

The Reds ran into another setback yesterday, 4-3 in 11 innings, by the Chicago Cubs. Johnny Vander Meer hurled for the Reds and allowed 11 hits in 11 frames—but six of these were bunched in the fourth and fifth innings for three Chicago runs and two more, singles by Stan Hack and Rookie Len Merullo, sandwiched an error by Shortstop Eddie Joost in the 11th and spelled Vandy's doom.

The Reds made two of their runs on three hits in the sixth inning and brought Paul Erickson hurrying to the rescue of Hiram Bithorn. He performed a noteworthy relief mission, allowing only one hit in 5 1/3 innings, but this blow was an eighth-inning home run by Frank McCormick to tie the score.

All of the other clubs had an open date.

Bill Holland, 1941 AAA Eastern Big Car champion, will make his first appearance of the 1942 season next Sunday in the opening racing program at the Williams Grove Speedway. More than 30 leading big car drivers have sent in their entries to Roy Richwine, owner of the Speedway. The tire and gas situation is expected to have little effect on racing programs. Enough tires, equipment and parts, which will not fit anything except racing cars, are on hand for three years. All of the drives use substitute fuel of their own concoction with the result that little gasoline is used.

The record time for the Middle Atlantics relay race which has been staged during the Penn Relays since 1923 was set in 1930 by Union college with a mark of 3:21.7. Gettysburg's victory last Friday was its first in history of the event and was reeled off in 3:23.3. Wayne Bucher, who was the anchor man for the Bullets, was unofficially clocked in his run at 49.1.

A practice game was held between the Gettysburg college nine and Hagersown of the Interstate league Monday afternoon on the college field. The Owls had little trouble in winning due to the very ragged fielding of the Plankmen. Hagerstown tabbed eight runs in the first three innings on but three hits and six errors. Coach Plank used practically his entire squad while several regulars were missing entirely.

Philadelphia, April 28 (AP) — Ralph Greenleaf, world's pocket billiard champion, won the unofficial national championship last night with one-third of the tournament remaining to be played.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, April 28—The consuls-general of 21 Central and South American countries are scheduled to visit the Polo grounds May 10 when Mexico's champion soccer team, Atlante, opens a tour of the United States by playing a picked squad of local booters. . . . The tour also will take in Kearny, New Jersey, Philadelphia, Baltimore, St. Louis and Fall River, Massachusetts, or Providence, Rhode Island. . . . "Hilda the Bell Ringer," one of the Dodgers' noisiest fans, has adopted the Montreal Royals and follows them to Newark and Jersey City when them bums aren't at home. . . . Babe Ruth, back from Hollywood, called off a party the movie folks had arranged for him yesterday. Babe said he had overestimated his strength and wasn't in shape for a party after a long train ride.

TERRITORIAL RIGHTS

It may be stretching a point, but Richmond, Virginia, is claiming willard Marshall, the Giants' sensational rookie, as one of its own. . . . Marshall lived in Chesterfield county, part of which recently was annexed by the city of Richmond, so that makes him a home-town boy although he got his start with the Battlefield Park team that won the Virginia American Legion championship in 1936.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Greg Rice has accepted an invitation to run three races back home in Montana for the benefit of the Naval Relief fund next summer. . . . Lou Stillman has only 63 fighters working out at his gym these days. Last year he had 116 regulars. . . . Only two signs ever have appeared on the fence of Forbes Field, home of the Pittsburgh Pirates. . . . In 1918, one urged "Buy War Saving Bonds." Now it reads "Buy Defense Bonds." . . . At a recent Notre Dame dinner here, Biff Jones, the Army coach, reported the demand for Army-Notre Dame football tickets is the greatest in years. . . . Figuring on the basis of the Keeneland meeting, where the Mutual handle (beg pardon, public pool) was up 20 per cent, Earl Ruby of the Louisville Courier-Journal figures Derby Day betting at Churchill Downs may reach $2,300,000. The present record set in 1926, was $2,096,613.

LAST LAUGH

When someone asked Hal Moe, Oregon State backfield coach, how come he weighed 185 pounds when he was playing football 10 years ago and only 170 when he took his Navy physical exam, Hal relied: "My wife specialized in home economics."

NAMES MAKE NEWS

Jimmy Couey of the Columbus, Georgia, Ledger reports that Roy Broome, clean up hitter on the Columbus Sally League club, came up with the bases full the other night and swept them clean with a triple. . . . When the Alabama U. freshmen opened their baseball season, Emanuel "Sandy" Wolfe gave a single to the first batter, then retired 27 men in order. A couple of days later Bob Wolf pitched a two-hitter. So there must be one coach who can't complain that the Wolves are after him. . . . And Fabian Wotta of Bronson, Michigan, high school pitched a no-hitter last week. Wotta man!

CLEANING THE CUFF

When Frank Frisch master-minded himself out of catchers the other day, Frankie Gustine volunteered to catch the last two innings although he never before had worn the mask and pads. . . . The Iowa State high school girls' basketball tournament drew a $10,102.24 gate at the Drake Field House. . . . The grand circuit has lost three tracks because of the war but doesn't expect to lose any trainers or drivers. Nearly all of them are more than 44 years old. . . . The decision of the Southeastern conference not to let freshmen play football was good news to Coach Scrappy Moore of Chattanooga U. He figures it gave the smaller colleges a chance to pick up enough transfer players to keep the game going.

Eastern League Opens Wednesday

Williamsport, Pa., April 28 (AP)—The Eastern league gets under way tomorrow and President Thomas H. Richardson has high hopes for a successful season—one he believes will "bring the communities back to baseball."

"With the preservation of rubber and gasoline placing a premium on unnecessary automobile travel, baseball is bound to attract a good percentage of those fans who usually went joy-riding in their spare time, especially on week-ends," he said.

"I can't help feeling optimistic about the game in this war year."

The Class A league opens with Elmira at Williamsport, Scranton at Wilkes-Barre, Hartford at Springfield and Albany at Binghamton.

Richardson would make no predictions in regard to attendance but said "there's good reason to believe it will be up to par with that of last season.

"We are going along as best we can," Richardson said, "hoping for the best, doing as we are told and cooperating in the war effort as much as possible."

Bullet Records Broken At Relays

Two Gettysburg college records were snapped by the performances of the Bullet entries in the Penn Relays Friday and Saturday at Philadelphia.

In winning the Middle Atlantics mile relay Friday in 3:23.3 the team lowered the former college record which was established in 1914 at 3:40¼.

Fred Geiter's heave of 193 feet six inches in the Saturday morning javelin contest broke the record of 183 feet set by Geiter last week at Western Maryland.

Members of the relay team, Everhart, Powers, Motter and Bucher, each received watches and individual cups for their performance. A large trophy and plaque was also awarded the college. Geiter won a medal for his third place position in the javelin.

Injury Fails To Cut Alsab's Speed

Louisville, Ky., April 28 (AP)—After giving his boosters a dozen hours of worry, Alsab breezed down Churchill Downs' stretch early today to end all fears that his cut right leg would bother him either in the derby trail this afternoon or the Kentucky Derby Saturday.

The flying little hope of Al Sabath of Chicago, who caught a nail from his left hind show in his right hind leg yesterday, took over the track and dashed a quarter of a mile in 25 2-5 seconds as his final workout for the trial in which he tangles with Warren Wright's Sun Again, Emerson Woodward's pair—Valdina Orphan and Hollywood—and several others.

With the Alsab matter settled, Sun again once more took over his share of the interest in the derby trial. On his work in that trial depended his chances of getting to the post in the big race Saturday.

Four Arrested Over Week-End

State motor police here reported four arrests over the week-end for motor code violations and charged all the defendants with speeding. Out-of-state motorists paid their fines while one driver from Chambersburg will get a 10-day notice to appear.

The defendants follow: Frank B. Hoffman, Chambersburg, charged before Justice of the Peace L. A. Storm, Mt. Pleasant township, with speeding at 60 miles an hour; John Storey, Jr., Dearborn, Michigan, 62, Justice of the Peace William D. Brown, Hunterstown; Francis Hummert, Manchester, Maryland, 68, Justice Gerald Orndorff, Oxford township, and Mervin Strapp, Rochester, New York, 62, Justice John H. Basehore.

INSURANCE EXECUTIVE DIES

New York, April 28 (AP)—Frederick H. Kingsbury, 77, retired vice president of the Globe Indemnity company, died yesterday in a hospital.

5 Die In Crashes

(By The Associated Press)

Five persons died in week-end traffic accidents in Pennsylvania as motorists jammed the highways on the eve of gasoline rationing.

A fall and a gun accident claimed two other lives.

A car left Lincoln highway near York and crashed into a tree, killing Raymond W. R. Winters, 32, of Philadelphia, and Carl Anthony Wendell, 24, of Lancaster.

Others killed in traffic mishaps were Erleigh N. Homan, 20, of Boiling Springs; William Foresman, 69, of Philadelphia, father of nine children, and Ralph Jimmie, 32, who was sprayed with flaming gasoline when his truck plunged down an embankment into Tunkhannock creek.

Michael Kane, Jr., 32, was killed in a fall down stairs in his Harrisburg home.

A bullet wound received as he played cowboy and Indians with his father killed John Webster, 10, who lived near Grove City.

THE LAP OF EARTH

Poor, weeping Mother Earth! A mere little ball in the vast expanse of worlds, planets, stars and moving masses, seen and unseen, that make up this Universe. Yet how significant is this Earth—the only human habitation.

What a punishment the Earth is now taking from foolish man who has never learned how to live permanently happy and in peace. Said the teacher Jesus: Not a single sparrow can fall to the Earth without the Father's notice. Yet in this rich lap of Earth, made beautiful and full of promise for human beings, brother is rushed against brother!

I pick up from my pile of intimate books the little volume by Michael Fairless—her living brief book — "The Roadmender." I read over and over again that beautiful sentence: "After all, what do we ask of life, here or indeed hereafter, but leave to serve, to live, to commune with our fellow-men, and with ourselves; and from the lap of Earth to look up into the face of God?"

Just to lie upon the green Earth and look into the face of the blue sky above is to be made humble and full of reverence toward God and all that he has touched into created form fit for man's sustenance and happiness, and to inspire him toward a useful goal in some way or other.

You who are wed to the Earth can never know divorce, for every breath of love that emanates from its breast is vitalized by the Light of Heaven. How very warm and friendly is this lap of the Earth!

How like the whisper of some inspired poem is the echo of one's footfalls upon the forest floor. To stroll over its mossy retreats and to scent the cool and fragrant aroma of Nature's garments, is to feel genuine kinship with the Creator. How can one's faith falter, or fear find a place in one's heart, when every arm of the Earth is reached out to comfort, to bless and to cheer?

From the lap of the Earth comes every substance for our life, and back to her arms finally for our long sleep. Beautiful Earth — so wantonly abused by man!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Margins."

Just Folks

PLEA FOR DUTY

Where can we find the task or post
At which our strength is needed most?
And who is there about to say:
"Do this for victory today"?

We stand about and watch and wait!
We see the hour is growing late.
Yet no one comes to us who knows
A task or service to propose.

We are the elder and the gray!
At home we're privileged to stay,
Yet there is much that we could do
To help the cause if we but knew.

Rise men of vision who can lead!
Hear us and help us, as we plead,
Tell us the task and point the way
And we'll do service, night and day.

Three Countians Get Promotion At Camp Livingston

SOLDIERS LAUD CARRIER BOYS FOR STAMP WORK

Maintenance Platoon,
Headquarters Co., 103rd Qm. Bn.,
A.P.O. 28, Camp Livingston, La.

The Gettysburg Times
Dear Friends,

War has been described as long periods of routine work, with occasional periods of intense excitement. We're having our full share of routine work in our training, and we just hope we'll do as well as our forces are doing at the different fronts, when we get there. We like, especially, the bombing attacks on Japan the other day, and hope to hear of bigger and better ones from now on.

Our very hearty congratulations go to the carrier boys of the Times, and the other boys all over the county, who are making such a splendid record selling defense stamps. It looks like Adams county is "pitching in."

I'm glad to have a few more promotions to report, and it looks like some more coming up. Sergeant "Sam" Kessel was promoted to Staff Sergeant a few days after coming back from his furlough, during which he got acquainted with his new son. In addition to that, James Pierce has been promoted to sergeant, and Francis Smith has made sergeant technician, as a mechanic. None of these men are in the Maintenance Platoon, but Kessel is in the same company, and all of our old buddies come back to see us occasionally.

New Organization

A brand new organization has sprung up in our midst, with the officers forming the entire organization. I don't know the name of it yet, but the officers are as follows: President, J. Mark McDermott; vice president (silent), Clarence B. Keckler; secretary, Eugene W. Rouzer; treasurer, Jesse T. Hoffman, and mechanic and engineer, Edgar A. McDonnell. Their assets are listed as one green Ford and one boat. They've been having "meetings" at every opportunity, to get their ventures started on a paying basis. They're now trying to devise ways and means of getting a motor for the boat. Some of the boys hint that their assets are liabilities, but we wouldn't know about that. At any rate they're having fun and keeping busy—extra busy.

I've heard some complaints that "Cheeter" hasn't been in the news often enough. I could write quite a long letter about the antics of that famous little dog. She certainly has a lot of friends around here and no enemies. At every formation she's out there looking it over, always playful, but reminding one of a very conscientious inspector. She's especially cute at getting into the mess hall, where she's forbidden, but regulations don't bother that little lady. It isn't that she's hungry, but she just can't stand it if she isn't "in" on everything that "her troops" do. Mark McDermott and "Bud" McDonnell are her very special friends, and when they both go away without her you'd think she didn't have another friend in the world. At times like that she "tolerates" the rest of us.

Horse shoe pitching seems to attract more players and interest than any other game we have, at present. Howard Hummer is our most consistent performer, with Harold Sharpe a close second. Merle Riley and John Bosak also get a "hot streak" occasionally. "Pinky" Guise and "Abe" Turner also are consistent performers with the also-rans. Baseball hasn't had its rightful place in our sports calendar, due to lack of equipment, although we have our share of talent in that sport. It seems the fishing season isn't at its best yet, as the waters are still high, due to frequent rains. Our fishermen are watching the signs though, and no doubt we'll have some real fish stories in time to come.

Yours very truly,
CRAWFORD C. WITHEROW.

Target Barge No Place For Fishing

Los Angeles, April 28 (AP)—Three boys rowed out to an abandoned barge about a mile off Malibu yesterday, hoping to catch some bass and barracuda.

They didn't get any fish. They didn't stay long enough. Before they had a nibble, a formation of six planes dived at the barge and machine-gunned it.

The boys, W. L. Williams, 18; his brother, Roy, 16, and Harry La Roque, 18, had picked the wrong barge—the wrong area, in fact,—for fishing.

The barge once was known as the Prentice. It now serves as a target for Army and Navy fliers. With the first fusillade of bullets the boys took to cover behind a wooden stanchion, and as the planes soared for another dive the frightened trio made for their rowboat.

But alas, the rowboat had capsized. They started swimming. About 300 yards away they reached the comparative safety of another barge, this one not designated as a target. The Coast Guard rescued them and brought them ashore.

Flashes of Life

WELL REPRESENTED

Prestonsburg, Ky. — Frank C. Stamper, a Spanish-American War veteran, has five sons in the armed forces, but even so he says his percentage isn't so good. He has 23 other children.

PANTS WITHOUT POCKETS

Chicago—Judge Rudolph Desort recently ruled on common property that "a woman has the legal right to search her husband's pockets and he can go through her purse—but he shouldn't get caught." After an attorney told him a group of men known as "We, the Husbands," were protesting the ruling as "unwarranted search," the judge suggested: "If they don't like it, let them take it up with their tailors and have them make pants without pockets—they're making them without cuffs now."

OH BOY

Roseburg, Ore.—Bill Puckett, a soldier stationed at Long Island, New York, couldn't wait to tell hometown friends about holding Lana Turner on his lap. While on a commercial airline trip to Philadelphia, Puckett wrote the plane bounced, and the actress walking past his seat, fell in his lap.

DIVE BOMBER

Sacramento, Calif.—An aerial attack—by a duck—put radio station KFBK off the air for five hours. A duck tried to fly between two high power wires near the station transmitted. An arc set up by its body severed one wire and electrocuted the duck.

CANADA OKAYS CONSCRIPTION FOR OVERSEAS

Ottawa, April 28 (AP)—Canadian citizens authorized the use of Canadian conscripts anywhere in the world by a vote approaching two-to-one in a plebiscite Monday.

From dominion ballot boxes came an affirmative answer to the question submitted by the regime of Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King: "Are you in favor of releasing the government from any obligation arising out of any past commitments restricting the method of raising men for military service?"

Returns from 23,481 of the 31,203 polls showed 2,233,115 voted yes and 1,306,782 no.

Preelection pledges had prevented the King government from sending any but volunteers to Britain and the Orient. Single men and childless widowers between 21 and 30 were subject to conscription for defense training. The way is now open for imposition of conscription for overseas service at any time it is deemed necessary or desirable.

The one province to vote adversely was French-Canadian Quebec, where the cry "a bas conscription" (down with conscription) had been raised frequently in recent demonstrations reminiscent of its draft riots during the World war.

Returns from 7,437 of Quebec province's 7,975 polls gave: 367,361 yes, 909,835 no.

By contrast, early returns from all the eight other provinces were "yes," by from two to six to one.

The Prime Minister issued a statement saying in would be "recognized throughout the country that, in a democracy, the will of the majority prevails."

"The vote," King said, "means that the people generally recognize that the war has taken a course which was altogether unforeseen; that conditions wholly unexpected may yet arise and that, in consequence, it is necessary to remove any restrictions upon the freedom of the government and Parliament."

About 7,000,000 men and women were eligible to participate in the plebicite, Canada's first since 1898.

Members of the Canadian armed forces cast their ballots in advance from April 16 to 25. Their votes will be made public next week.

STATE CLOSES SCHOOLS

Shamokin, Pa., April 28 (AP)—Classes were suspended indefinitely today for 3,100 pupils of the Coal township schools when 124 teachers and 27 janitors went on strike demanding back salaries for the last two months. The pupils were taken to the 13 school buildings by bus as usual this morning and were dismissed when the teachers and janitors failed to report. Superintendent D. T. Meisberger said the schools would be closed indefinitely "until some agreement is reached."

NELSON TO GET DEGREE

Chester, Pa., April 28 (AP)—Donald N. Nelson, chief of the War Production Board chairman, and Lieutenant General Brehom B. Somervell, commander of the army service of supply, will receive honorary degrees from Pennsylvania Military college at commencement exercises May 19. Nelson will be honored with a doctor of law degree and General Somervell with a doctorate of military science.

Storm Kills 100, Hurts 250 In Oklahoma War Boom Town

Pryor, Okla., April 28 (AP)—A sudden, savage tornado ripped the main street of this war boom town into ruins and the state highway patrol estimated today 100 persons perished and more than 250 were injured.

This town of 5,000 to 6,000 next door to the multi-million dollar Oklahoma ordnance works, was ordered under martial law, and Governor Leon C. Phillips placed Safety Commissioner Walter B. Johnson in command of state relief agencies.

The martial law is being enforced by the state highway patrol under Johnson, the state's National Guard having been mustered into the Army.

Hundreds of workers and machinery from the ordnance works, which escaped serious damage, were rushed to the scene. Giant bulldozers and cranks shoveled through the wreckage in search of victims.

Business District Wrecked

The tornado struck yesterday at 5:45 p. m. (Eastern War Time). Most of the six block business district on Main street was reduced to rubble.

Early this morning, street patrols were organized to prevent looting and three arrests were reported.

The more seriously injured were hospitalized in nearby towns. The Community House, two churches and the Whitaker State Orphanage were being used for first aid and emergency stations. Pryor's two hospitals were damaged and evacuated.

Wounded overflowed hospitals at Vinita, Claremore, Tulsa and other towns.

The Red Cross sent eight disaster workers from St. Louis with medical and other supplies.

Tried To Warn Residents

Practically every brick building along the main street and on the principal business side streets was flattened or heavily damaged.

About one-third of the homes were damaged or destroyed. Entire blocks of houses smashed in some instances.

Highway Patrolman Cecil Fishburn told of seeing the storm approaching as he drove into town.

"I got into town just before the storm. Sheets of rain blinded persons along the street to the approaching clouds. I saw people huddled under awnings and in doorways to escape the rain and drove around trying to warn them.

"Many of them apparently were trapped under falling debris as the tornado struck."

Parked Cars Buried

Sheriff Don McElroy estimated that hundreds of parked cars were buried under the crashing buildings.

In one trailer camp west of town, eight persons were trapped and killed. The collapse of a grocery killed another. Five persons eating in a cafe died in the smashed structure. Three bodies were recovered from a rubble heap that had been a garage.

Faye Mitchell, employe of the county agent's office, said "everything went black as the storm struck."

"It made my ears hurt," she said. "There was a high whistling sound. It was like swimming deep under water."

All telephone communications were cut. The electric power was off. Ambulances from nearby towns carried out wounded.

F. C. (Dick) Dickinson, employe of the Grand River dam at Langley, Oklahoma, had just driven into town as the purplish-black storm cloud descended.

He said he counted 11 bodies in five blocks.

Portable Power Units Used

The ordinance plant workers cleared the streets of rubble, then attacked the tottering walls of business houses to remove the danger of further crumbling and injury to rescue workers.

Portable power units from the ordinance works were set up at strategic centers in the downtown area. Emergency water supplies and food were brought in.

The storm was freakish in its savagery. One side of the First National bank was blown out. Loose money from the tills—the amount undetermined littered the street. Nobody stopped to pick it up. They were too busy.

Claremore residents reported seeking the storm east of there. It dipped down on highway 20 about 12 miles west of here and apparently followed the highway into Pryor.

Its path along the highway was littered by twisted automobiles, some of which it tossed 200 yards into fields. One giant gasoline transport truck was twisted like a pretzel.

Truck and Driver Disappear

Standing on a hilltop on the highway, George Wolfe, Tulsa, truck driver, told of seeing the purplish-black cone—"from all sides were spitting big cows, calves, whole trees, telephone poles, roof tops." After waiting until he thought the storm had passed, he and his helper, Leonard Wallace, 18, along with 10 persons huddled on the hill, got into their machines and started out again. But those that had gone ahead apparently plunged into the storm's center.

Wallace said a light bakery truck with the driver in it just disappeared.

"I saw that truck a good 15 feet off the road and twisting in a continuous circle," said Wallace. "Afterward I looked all over for it and never found a trace of the driver or the truck."

Papers Filed In Two Estates Here

Papers in estates of two countians were placed on file at the court house Saturday.

The will of the late Ellen Baker of East Berlin disposes of an estate estimated to be worth $1,700 in real estate and personal property and names Curvin Fissel and Purley Grove, East Berlin, as the executors.

The administration bond in the estate of the late Joel M. Woodward, Sr., of Gettysburg, has been recorded. The administrator is a son, Ellsworth F. Woodward, Gettysburg.

Branch Offices May Speed Data On Births

Harrisburg, April 28 (AP)—An experiment to determine whether the use of branch offices would speed the issuance of birth certificates in third class cities was disclosed today by the state Department of Health.

Acting Secretary Dr. A. H. Stewart said an office would be opened in Erie about May 1, and certificates would be issued there from city records. He expressed doubt whether the plan would prove successful in all third class cities but added:

"It may do pretty well in Erie. Their records are very complete."

The secretary saw little need for branch offices, asserting facilities of the vital statistics bureau were ample now to take care of applications.

"We're going to be working full blast there and we'll be able to meet the demand. In fact if we were starting now from scratch we'd go swimmingly. It's been the big backlog that held things up."

For months the bureau has been jammed with applications for birth certificates required of workers in defense factories. Director Tom E. Williams estimated 60,000 requests had piled up. He blamed lack of modern equipment and insufficient clerical help.

NO SUGAR THIS WEEK!

1 Use honey instead of sugar on cereals and fruits. It blends deliciously with the nut-like flavor of cereals—turns them into exciting new treats.
2 Make more loaf cakes and frost the top only. Frost layer cakes between layers, on top but not on sides. Spry cakes are lighter—delicious unfrosted, too.
3 For a grand easy-on-sugar dessert serve light, tender Spry gingerbread in squares, warm, topped with whipped cream sweetened with a little molasses.
4 Serve canned fruit pies with tender, flaky Sprycrust. Boil down the sirup and you won't need sugar except a little with red pie cherries.
5 Serve piping-hot Spry biscuits with preserves or honey and your folks won't miss dessert! Try other Spry quick breads, too, see how light and tender.
6 Use jams, jellies and marmalades as fillings for cakes. Serve them also with French toast (sautéed in hot Spry) for a simple, easy dessert.

MURDER DEFENSE STARTS

Chambersburg, Pa., April 28 (AP)—The defense opened its case today at the murder trial of Edward M. Parriss, 44, of Morristown, Tennessee, with a first degree verdict excluded by action of District Attorney J. Glenn Benedict. Parriss is accused of shooting Daniel Greenland, 42, a former Houtzdale, Pa., coal trucker, in the presence of Parriss' wife, Mary Pearl Parriss, at Greeland's rooming house here last February 26.

COAL REQUIREMENTS UP

Cincinnati, O., April 28 (AP)—America's coal requirements this year are expected to jump approximately 60,000,000 tons over last year's output, says Thomas J. Thomas, associate director of the Office of Solid Fuels coordination. Warning that consumers should store up fuel for possible emergencies, Thomas told the 19th annual American Mining Congress yesterday that the present trend indicated from 550,000,000 to 570,000,000 tons of bituminous and 60,000,000 tons of anthracite would be required against a 1941 output of 502,860,000 and 54,350,000 tons respectively.

Secret Orders

BY ELEANOR ATTERBURY

Chapter 17

The Weeping Girl

It was the right street. Lady Luck had smiled. As Stephanie guided the heavy car between the heavy iron gates at the entrance to the hospital grounds, joined the long line of ambulances moving slowly up to the door marked "Emergency," she felt tears of relief sliding down her cheeks.

But the opportunity to see Kurt came and went so quickly, she could scarcely be sure she'd actually looked into his face, so gaunt, so pallid it was only a grim caricature of the Kurt she'd known.

Then, they carried him away and Stephanie responded automatically to sharp orders to "Drive on!"

Once on the way back to the waterfront, full realization of what she had done swept over her. It might mean trouble for the regular driver, it certainly would mean trouble for her. And what of her orders to report to Pier 51!

She drove as fast as she dared, never once letting the ambulance ahead get out of sight. If her luck would hold out for just a few minutes more—

She parked the car in the line before the big pier, slipped out, raced the long block back to her own station wagon. No one stopped her and a moment later she was making precarious headway toward Pier 51.

The next few hours were so strenuously busy with filling her wagon with refugee women and their children, with taking them to safe shelter, with returning for more pitiful loads, that Stephanie had no time to remember Kurt's white face.

But later, as she crawled wearily into bed, and closed her eyes, instantly the memory flashed that picture across the silver-screen of her mind. Kurt, her heart wept, Kurt! What have they done to you? And what—lay ahead!

She'd contrive to find some way to see him. Tomorrow. Right now, she was too tired even to think of a plan. Gratefully she buried her cheek in the pillow. She was so exhausted that even her senses weren't trustworthy. Right now, the wind in the eaves sounded exactly like a woman sobbing.

She pulled the bedclothes higher, turned over. Still the wind wailed pathetically. Or was it the wind? She raised on one elbow to listen. There it was again. Soft, irregular sobbing like a heart-broken child's.

Tears—And Love

Stephanie pulled on her robe, thrust her feet into slippers, padded to the window to listen. Not wind in the eaves, but someone crying down in the kitchen of her own house. Puzzled, Stephanie snapped on the hall light, ran down the stairs.

There was no light anywhere downstairs. Even the sobbing stopped as Stephanie opened the door to the kitchen. Fumbling, found the light switch.

There, curled small in Tsang's big rocker, was little Liu, her pretty round face tear-streaked, her eyes red with weeping.

"Why—Liu! Whatever is the matter?" Stephanie demanded, amazed. Never, in all the years that Liu had Stephanie ever seen her anything but widely smiling.

The young Chinese girl got to her feet swiftly, gracefully, stood trying to smile.

"What is it, Liu? Are you ill?"

"No, Miss Stephanie. Nothing is the matter. I am sorry if I disturbed you."

American born and raised though she was, Liu obviously felt she had "lost face" to have her tears discovered. Stephanie smiled, held out her hand.

"Tell me what is breaking your heart Liu," she urged. "Perhaps I can help you."

Still, the girl shook her head.

Stephanie frowned. "Tsang? But why?" Then she remembered old Tsang's grumbling story about his granddaughter's Japanese friend. "Look, Liu, is it about the boy you met at the University?"

Startled, the girl looked at her a moment, finally nodded. "Hajami is gone," she said simply.

"Gone!" Stephanie smiled, drew the girl down beside her on the scarred old window-bench where Tsang always sat to peel his vegetables or read his Chinese newspaper. "But that's not so awful, is it? He'll be back, won't he?"

"I think now he is probably dead," Liu said in a voice from which all tone seemed gone.

"Dead! What are you saying?"

"Hajami is as good an American as you are, Miss Stephanie," the girl said with sudden passion. "He loved this country. He did not love the country of his ancestors. I know he did not. But they tried to make him betray this country."

"They?" Stephanie echoed instantly. "Who is 'they,' Liu?"

"A tall gentleman who came to see him many times. Some times at his boarding house. Sometimes on the campus between his classes. A tall dark-haired gentleman, he said, who threatened Hajami."

"Threatened him about what?" Stephanie prompted.

"He said that if he did not agree to do as he was told, he would be shot."

"Shot! That's ridiculous. This is America, Liu."

The girl shook her head. "That is what Hajami said to the strange gentleman. He would have nothing to do with him. And now—he is gone. Nobody knows where. Nobody has seen him for two days." Her lips trembled and she fought for control, torturing a scrap of white handkerchief. "And nobody will help me to find him."

"But why not, Liu. Surely—"

Offer of Help

"Hajami's father says it is better to say nothing lest the rest of the family be punished. Hajami has many brothers and sisters. And my grandfather forbids me to tell anyone. He says it is punishment for me for even making a friend of Hajami. But—" despair crept back into her pretty face—"Why should I not have made a friend of him? We were in many of the same classes. We enjoyed talking together. Hajami is a fine person. It is no disgrace in America to like a fine person, is it?"

"Of course not," Stephanie assured her while her thoughts raced ahead to try to think of some way to help. "Did you see the man who threatened Hajami?"

The girl shook her head. "No, never."

"And when was Hajami seen last?"

"He left for his classes yesterday morning but he never reached the campus." Liu's eyes filled slowly. "Oh, Miss Stephanie, I know they have done something dreadful."

"We must report it to the police."

The girl rose instantly. "Oh, please, no! Oh, no! My grandfather would never permit it. He would disown me. You must not do that. Can't you see, Miss Stephanie, it is for me—for my family—a disgrace that—I cannot—we—"

Sobs overtook her then and she crumpled into a little heap at Stephanie's feet.

"Please, Liu, don't cry. I'll find a way. I promise you." She tried to comfort the girl, drew her back onto the bench beside her. "Now you run along to bed and stop worrying."

Liu dried her tears, tried to smile. "Thank you. You are generous, Miss Stephanie, but you must not endanger yourself."

P.U.C. Holding Bus Hearings

Harrisburg, April 28 (AP)—A statewide wartime program laid down by the Public Utility Commission today called for fullest possible use of transportation systems due to rationing and shortage of materials.

A series of public hearings will be held throughout the state to meet particular problems in each defense area. Topping the list of subjects for discussion will be staggering hours of employment to ease peak burdens on trolleys and buses.

The regulatory agency's policy directs maximum use of all operable rail lines and equipment, requiring discontinuance of bus and trolley coach service which are being provided over routes where street railway lines are or can be made operable as well as on street railway routes now being served part of the time by buses or trolley coaches.

The commission said acceptable charter or special business included transportation of selectees, of groups made up principally of members of the armed forces, or particiants in the armed forces, or participants in military posts and school children, teachers and other school employes to and from school only.

THIRD IN 12 DAYS

Chester, Pa., April 28 (AP)—The 18,500-ton tanker Esso Richmond was launched yesterday at the Sun Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company's yards, 10 days ahead of schedule—and the third to be launched in 12 days. Mrs. Harry C. Weiss, wife of the president of the Humble Oil Company, Standard subsidiary, christened the vessel and suffered a cut hand from a bottle she broke over the prow.

HALT BRUSH FIRE

Butler, Pa., April 28 (AP)—Volunteer firemen from West Sunbury, North Washington and Chicora were called out to aid in fighting what District Inspector J. A. Eberhart said was the 12th serious brush fire in Butler county this spring. More than 300 acres of pasture and brush land near here were burned. Some 200 volunteers saved several houses and oil wells that were endangered.

YORK POLICE SCHOOL ENDS

Graduation exercises Friday afternoon in the York city hall marked the close of the first school in basic police procedure at York under the instruction of Gettysburg's chief of police, Glenn Guise. Only Adams county graduate in the class was Horace L. Bender, a special officer on the borough police force.

The diplomas for the 23 members of the class who completed the course were presented by Chief Guise and there were talks by Major Harry B. Anstine, District Attorney W. Berg Anstine, Chief of Police Gerber of York and Ervin Ruhl, a member of the class, while other York county and city officials looked on.

Chief Guise conducted the class each Thursday afternoon for the last six months and covered these subjects among others: Self defense, fingerprinting, elements of crime, first aid, criminal investigation procedure and the making of reports. The school was conducted as a part of the program of the state Department of Public Instruction.

Next month Chief Guise will be one of the instructors in a police school in marksmanship and firearms to be conducted for a six-week period.

Following the graduation exercises the officers held an outing near Safe Harbor on the Susquehanna where they named officers of their branch of the police school alumni association.

GOOD HEALTH is a PATRIOTIC DUTY

★ Yes, that's putting it plainly. But it is a fact that Health is our first defense. No country is stronger, sturdier, more reliant than the people within its borders. That's why it's so important for us all, in these momentous times, to make a special resolution—a resolution to get well and to keep well. How about your own case? Better see a good Physician! And, of course, we're just proud enough of our service to hope that you will bring his prescription here to be compounded!

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, April 28 (Wide World)—George V. Denny, Jr., has been the moderator of the America's Town Meeting all the years it has been on the air, but he's never been one of the speakers. After next Thursday night's broadcast that won't hold true. At that time, with the program on the Blue coming from Ft. Wayne, Indiana, he will turn over his post as moderator to James L. Fly, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, to take his place along with three others to discuss "the role of criticism in wartime." They will be Norman Thomas, Socialist leader; Walter D. Fuller, business executive, and Jay Allen, foreign correspondent.

TIRE THEFTS DOWN

Philadelphia, April 28 (AP)—The vigilance of police and civilians and the severity of court sentences have cut tire thefts 50 per cent here in the last four weeks, Detective Inspector George Richardson says. Thefts in March totaled 275 tires, of which 125 were recovered, he said. This month, 149 have been stolen and 10 recovered and Richardson said police expect to recover many more when present investigations are completed.

A.V.G. To Disband; Chief Recalled To U. S. Army Duty

By DANIEL DE LUCE

With the American Volunteer Group in Burma, April 20 (Delayed) (AP)—The rough-and-ready members of the American Volunteer Group, the scourge of the skies for Japanese fliers in the battle of Burma, apparently are going to step out of their patched and battle-scarred planes soon and disband.

Claire L. Chennault, the leathery old United States flying instructor who commanded the group and trained it into perhaps the greatest collection of war aces in the Far East, has been recalled to active service in the U. S. Army and named a brigadier general. It was the first direct action toward dissolution of the independent unit which is credited with destroying more than 200 Japanese aircraft for the loss of less than 10 fliers in combat.

(War Department sources in Washington said no official action has been taken, but that transfer of the AVG to the Army air forces had been under consideration ever since the United States became a belligerent.

(A dispatch received from New Delhi Monday credited the AVG with downing 400 Japanese planes.)

The pilots and technicians, many of whom served in the U. S. Army, Navy or Marines before they resigned in 1940 to fight for China, were given the alternative of entering the U. S. Army or returning to the United States on or before the expiration of their one-year contracts in Chungking, it was understood. Many, it is believed, will return.

Chennault, who retired as an Army flying instructor in 1937 because of deafness and came to China to train Chiang Kai-Shek's airmen, said:

"My own course is clear. I'm in this war until it's won."

Chennault streamlined his volunteer organization so it could operate from almost any corner of Asia. The ground crews and mechanics could patch up a damaged plane with an almost miraculous disregard of common practice.

Although part of the Chinese air force, the AVG depends on the U. S. Army Air Corps for replacement of planes. Mechanics have received salaries of $350 monthly and pilots $600 with a bonus of $500 for every enemy plane confirmed as destroyed.

Wedding

Dupler—Berwager

Miss Lettie A. Berwager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tempeth Berwager, Westminster, Maryland, and Paul L. Dupler, McSherrystown, were married Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in Immanuel Lutheran church, Manchester, Maryland. The single ring ceremony of the Lutheran church was performed by the bride's minister, the Rev. A. M. Hollinger, Hanover, pastor of the West Manheim Lutheran charge. They were attended by Miss Nadine Berwager, sister of the bride, and Clair Meckley. The newlyweds will reside at their respective homes for the present.

Opinion Divided On Income Limit

Washington, April 28 (AP)—President Roosevelt's proposal that net individual incomes be limited to $25,000 a year during the war encountered a sharp division of opinion today among members of Congressional committees handling tax legislation.

While many were reluctant to discuss the matter publicly, there were enough expressions of dissent to make it appear likely that a full dress battle might develop.

Two highly-placed members of the House Ways and Means committee predicted privately that the committee would reject the proposal for a "blanket clause" to limit business profits to a fixed sum and to keep individual salaries down to a $25,000 maximum by taxation.

ACCEPTS NEW JERSEY CALL

The Rev. Robert E. Carl, Greenmount, Maryland, pastor of Calvary Lutheran charge there for the last seven years, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Lutheran Church of Stewartsville, New Jersey, effective May 18. The Rev. Mr. Carl, whose home is in Hanover, is a graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1932. Three years later he graduated from the Lutheran Theological seminary here.

CRIPPS DEFENDS INDIA MISSION

London, April 28 (AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, opening a debate in Commons on India, predicted today that "nothing but good will result" from the British war cabinet's proposals for Indian self-government which he took to New Delhi but which were rejected.

"Owing to events in the far eastern theater of war accompanied by highly skilled though grossly misleading propaganda from Axis sources, an atmosphere of defeatism and anti-British sentiment was showing itself in certain sections of Indian opinion," said Sir Stafford, lord privy seal and Prime Minister Churchill's lieutenant in Commons.

That a war cabinet member was chosen to submit the proposals, he said, "demonstrated the sincerity of our purpose."

Cripps disclosed that he asked leading Indian groups to designate representatives to meet him because "I was most anxious there should be no suspicion whatever that his majesty's government was handpicking those whom I saw."

Referring to his talks in India with Louis Johnson, a representative of President Roosevelt, Cripps said "there was no question of any American intervention, but only the personal help of a very able American citizen. x x x."

The British had proposed that India be given dominion status after the war in return for increased cooperation in the war effort.

Cripps said there was no disaggreement upon the fundamental and vital points of self-determination and self-government, but instead differences arose on temporary government and the method by which self-determination was to be exercised.

Accuse F.D.R. Of Exempting Labor

Washington, April 28 (AP)—A chorus of complaints that President Roosevelt practically had exempted organized labor from his share-the-war program spurred new efforts in Congress today to force suspension of the 40-hour week and a legislative clamp-down on other union privileges.

Legislators generally approved the objectives set forth in the President's seven point message yesterday designed to bring about an "equality of privilege" in sharing the war burden, but split into confused and quarrelsome blocs opposing and supporting some of the methods proposed.

The President planned to lay his program before the nation in a radio address tonight.

There was sharp criticism in Congress of the fact that Mr. Roosevelt had asked for no labor legislation and had approved continuance of over-time wages for war industry workers while at the same time proposing legislative lowering of price ceilings on farm products.

Cruelty Inspires Church, Says Mott

Harrisburg, April 28 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Council of Churches moved ahead today with its study on problems of the church in a world at war, assured by Dr. John R. Mott, honorary chairman of the International Missionary council, that "Christianity can never be stamped out."

"Cruelty serves only to inspire Christians on to greater constructive efforts," Dr. Mott told the convention's opening session last night. "Jesus Christ is the light by which a way can be seen to restore peace on earth."

He related tales of the suffering of tens of millions of children in refugee camps, of the millions of war prisoners and of the movement that is making more of them, declaring "I was never so alarmed."

2 MINERS RESCUED

Tamaqua, Pa., April 28 (AP)—Two miners were rescued early today after being trapped for 12 hours by a cave-in 125 feet below the surface in an abandoned colliery working on a mountainside just south of Tamaqua. Pinned from the waist down by coal and debris, Charles King and Raymond Herring, both about 40, of Tamaqua, had watched helplessly as rescuers dug toward them. King was taken to the Coaldale State hospital in a serious condition. He received a broken arm and internal injuries. Herring was treated for minor bruises and sent home.

TO BUY WAR BOND

Altoona, Pa., April 28 (AP)—The Central Pennsylvania Dentists association, opening its annual convention here yesterday, voted to purchase $1,000 worth of war bonds. The organization also adopted a resolution proposing the government release certain materials it said were needed by the dental profession.
